“ To the Osborne family: I am so sorry for the loss of your beautiful, beloved daughter. I work at the hospice and have spoken with you a few times on the phone regarding your daughter. The employees at Community Loving Care Hospice have been very much touched by knowing your wonderful daughter. After a nurse's visit to your home, we always wanted to know "how's Ashlee doing"? It was a very sad day in the office Monday (1/22/09) when Mandy came in to tell us the sad news. Our prayers are with you all. I believe Ashlee is with God, shining down with a smile for all of us. Sincerely, Jo Ann Gray

“ I am very sorry to hear of Ashlee's battle with sarcoma. I did not know Ashlee, but as a former Chi-O I received a mailing that included Ashlee's passing. The reason that I felt the need to write is that I lost my sister in December following a three year battle with sarcoma. She was 35. I have looked for sarcoma fundraisers in Missouri to no avail thinking that this will help me honor my sister and deal with the loss. I am very active in our local Relay for Life, but I would be interested in attending, supporting, or helping with any sarcoma fundraisers that you may know of or become involved with to honor your daughter. I know that your loss is great and the worst part of losing my sister was watching my mother lose her daughter. My heart goes out to you.
