“ I have known Charles Lloyd (as we called him) all my life. His parents lived only a couple of miles from my family’s home. His sister, Mary Jo, was my best friend—so I spent a lot of time at their home. Charles Lloyd was always teasing us girls about something or other. I remember he had a hardy appetite and thoroughly enjoyed his mother’s wonderful homemade meals. Perhaps my favorite memories of him were when he came to our house and played “catch” with my brother, John. This involved throwing the baseball to one another ----over top of our large 2 story farm house. They were really good at this and never broke a window and never lost a ball on the roof! Rest in Peace, Charles Lloyd. My Sincere Sympathies to Margaret Ruth and to his children.
