“ I am deeply sorry for your loss. As someone who has lost both my Mom and Grandma in the past year and a half, I understand the confusion, questions, and grief you feel. Though the pain has not gone away, it has eased. Comfort will come even when sometimes the questions remain. Please know you are not alone and my thoughts and prayers are with you all. Your family meant a lot to me as a child and I have lots of memories of Lisa. I've been truly blessed to have felt the love of your family and that love will get you through this hard time.
