“ you couldn't help but love her. when I worked at Dr.Jackson's office she came in for a flu shot. I had given a shot to other employees , but BECKY WAS the first patient. I told her that and gave her the shot, we were all laughing when BECKY said I THINK i'm going to faint. We thought she was kidding. The next thing we new she was on the floor. Becky was one of the sweetest ladies I has pleasure of knowing. I meet Becky while caring for her husband at Smith Barr Manor. She never forgot me when she seen me anywhere she would stop and talk and give me a big hug. Rest in peace Becky and fly with the angels. My thoughts and prayers go the family. God Bless and keep you in his loving arms.
